

PD in the pub 2010

Behaviour management

Free for student and teacher members in their first few years.

Effective class and behaviour management are skills that all teachers need — skills we have to continue working on because of the changing nature of the classroom.

This is a chance to participate in a professional development session with one of the most dynamic presenters currently working with Victorian teachers — and if you are an AEU or VIEU member it will cost you nothing.

Not only do you get free PD, you can have a drink at the bar on us and we will issue you with a certificate of participation in the event for VIT registration purposes.

If you are a student teacher, this is a chance to hear about really practical and effective techniques you can use on rounds and in the classroom when you get a job. If you are already working — you know how important class and behaviour management is.

Not a member?

Go to www.vieu.org.au for non-government school teachers
Or www.aeuvic.asn.au/join/ for government school teachers
Or sign up at the session.

HOW TO REGISTER

It is essential to book for these sessions. Email glenys.vanhooff@aeuvic.asn.au with classroom management, your name and the venue you wish to attend as the subject line.

About the presenter

Glen Pearsall is a classroom teacher at Eltham High School and a board member of the Victorian Curriculum Assessment Authority.

Glen has worked widely with teachers — helping them improve their classroom management through a practical exploration of what goes on in the classroom and through working with groups on strategies to find curriculum solutions to even the most challenging behavioural issues.

Glen has a particular interest in supporting graduate teachers and has worked as a research fellow and seminar leader at the Youth Research Centre, University of Melbourne.
